

Important Notice about Copyrighted Materials

The laws of copyright protect the digital content ("Content") that is made available in this software and associated OverDrive services. Copyrights in the Content are held by their respective owners. The Content embodies the intellectual property of a third party and is protected by law.

You may use the Content only for your personal, non-commercial use. The Content and any other copyrighted material may not be modified, copied, distributed, shared, displayed, emailed, transmitted, sold or otherwise transferred, conveyed or used, in a manner inconsistent with the Agreement, or rights of the copyright owner. You will not redistribute, transmit, assign, sell, broadcast, rent, share, lend, modify, adapt, edit, sublicense or otherwise transfer the Content. You are not granted any synchronization, public performance, promotional use, commercial sale, resale, reproduction or distribution rights for the Content.

For Content downloaded from a library service, at the end of the lending period, your license to the Content terminates, and you may no longer use or access the Content. At the end of the lending period, you are required to delete and/or destroy any and all copies of the Content. In the event OverDrive, the library or other rights holders determines you are violating permitted uses of the Content, we reserve the right to suspend or terminate your ability to use or access an OverDrive service or the Content.

Our Statement

The New Hampshire State Library and all participating library members of the New Hampshire Downloadable Books Consortium adhere to the copyright laws used to protect the digital content purchased from OverDrive.

At this time, the following eBook Readers are known to be incompatible with the protected EPUB format. Any attempts to add protected EPUB materials borrowed from the NHDB service to these readers will be considered a violation of copyright law.
